Meeting 4 (10/18/13)

We discussed potentially providing education/training to student leaders about MIT’s admin/structure could be helpful. We also debated some different ideas for good communication mediums. We discussed some past efforts to address the issue of communication, and noted some points where we could attempt to do better. We additionally brainstormed ways in which we could try to ensure the longevity of whatever suggestions we make in the final SAC statement.

We assigned people to work on specific sections to create loose drafts -- just ideas/a general structure to work with as we move forward (after getting additional student input, etc.) These sections included research of past events, principles of communication from admins to students and vice-versa, overall principles of communication, an outline for an appropriate communication timeline, best practices for information dissemination, and actions to improve institutional memory and student leadership.
